

CSC 300
Turner, Spring 2008
Lab 1

Lab 1 is a simple personal statement of goals and interests with a projection into the next 10 years. As explained in class, imagine you've graduated from Cal Poly with the degree you are interested in, you find the job or the direction you truly want, and you build the sort of life you truly want.

Attach a basic photo of yourself to the top of the lab document so that I may begin to associate your names with your faces. A cover sheet is not necessary for this first lab, but your name and section of CSC 300 and the date should be used in the header of the document (near the photo.)

The document may be 1 – 2 pages in length and should be typewritten in a professional manner, so that it is easily read.

As we mentioned in class, you may also approach this Lab as an “obituary” that you'd like to see written for you when you pass, after your life has gone the way you would like it to.
