 * Class ConfirmMeetingDialog extends ScheduleAppointmentDialog, , since the
 * two dialogs have much in common.  (This is to be expected given that the * Meeting model class is an extension of the Appointment model class.)  The * differences between the meeting and appointment dialogs are as follows:
 *                                                                        <ul><li>
 *                                                                       </li><li>
 *                                                                      </li></ul>
